Thousands of sick and suffering people are like the poor cripple in the Bible, who had no one to help him down to the life-giving pool before some one else slipped in ahead of him. So many sufferers feel that if they could only get a little help to overcome their extreme weakness, they would then be able to regain their coveted health and strength.

It is just these people that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is designed to aid. It is the strong, helping hand for those who are in the extreme of bodily weakness and nervous exhaustion. It promptly tones, nourishes and builds up the entire system. It gives keen appetite, good digestion, pure blood, muscular strength, nerve-force and renewed activity.

"When I first wrote you I was completely disengaged," says Mrs. W. M. Satterly, living at Richfield, Tioga Co., N.Y. (P. O. Box 40) "It was to Dr. Pierce. "I was in pain all the time, could not lie in bed on account of severe, sharp pains in my back and in my hip. Had pain through the lower part of my body, and my elbows hurt me so much I could scarcely lift my baby. My skin was dry, harsh and scaly and hung like sacks on my arms. My husband called the doctor, and he said it was well known to him. His medicine did not do good. I kept getting worse and worse, and it seemed I should go crazy. One day I wrote you and received advice. I have taken Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, his 'Favorit Prescription' and 'Pleasant Pellets,' and now I can lie in bed with some comfort and can do a good day's work."

The most valuable book for both men and women is Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. A splendid 100-page volume with engravings and colored plates. A copy, paper-covered, will be sent to anyone sending twenty-one cents in one-cent stamps, to pay the cost of mailing only, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N.Y. Cloth-bound, 51 stamps.

A HARD WON BET.

Carrying Four Bricks Half a Mile Is Not an Easy Task.

"The hardest won bet I ever made," remarked the traveling man as he shook the ashes off his cigar, "was to carry four bricks half a mile. That sounds like a simple thing to do, doesn't it? Well, you try it and you will find out whether it is or not. Of course the manner of carrying the bricks is important. A man bet me that I couldn't carry two bricks in each hand from where we were back to the hotel and put them up on the bar. The bricks were to be put side by side and grasped, two in each hand, between the thumb and fingers, the fingers pointing down. I was not allowed to stop and rest, nor to put the bricks down.

"Well, thought I, that's $2 easily earned, so I took the bet and started. For a quarter of the distance it was easy and I already felt those two silver dollars in my pocket. But then my fingers began to grow tired. The muscles between my forefingers and thumbs were soon aching terribly. My arms began to pain me and to throb like mad. I found myself setting my teeth together and the cords in my neck were in a high state of tension. When I came within a hundred yards of the hotel there was scarcely an inch in my whole body that was not aching as if I had been stuck full of pins.

"I don't know how I managed to go that last little distance. I could no longer stand erect, and I was trembling like a leaf, and yet the other fellow was alongside, laughing as if to split his sides. And when I got into the barroom, it was all I could do to raise first one hand and then the other and put the bricks on the counter. I know that I couldn't have gone 50 feet farther. I got the $2, but the next day I could scarcely move, and I didn't get over the soreness for a week. It looks easy, but just you try it."—Detroit Free Press.

CAPITAL, THE END OF LABOR.

The JOURNAL has been engaged in presenting its views on capital and labor in connection with the effect that capital has on labor when it has absolute control over it. We have also presented in a limited way the means that labor has to apply for its protection against the dominion and misappropriation of capital to its detriment.

That our position may be better understood by our readers we will say that our arguments more especially apply to organized or soulless capital represented by large capitalized and bonded interests in the form of trusts, and the money interests represented by a national banking system and the general money interests of the world that are seeking independent power and control of the earth and all there is on it through money. These money interests have no identity with the general money interests of the country except to control them in its interests, and for the same purpose in seeking to control the government as it acts largely through the power it receives from government, but its purpose has been and is to act independent of government control, and by so doing to obtain independent of any power, control of all of the best interests of man. The general money interests of the world will be subject to the centralized and organized world-power of capital as labor will be, because the world money power will direct and control it, in all that it does. Wealth has not injured labor. It may have deprived it of its just share of the profits of labor, but as a whole when compared with its past history as a world wealth producing factor it has largely benefited the laboring man. Wealth when in the hands of civilized men (we speak advisedly as all men who live in civilized communities are not civilized) has been and will continue to be an aid to labor. The just share that labor should receive of the profits of labor from capital has become in the light of the world money power a matter for domestic adjustment, as it is now shorn of its prominence by the large power that will affect the industry of the world. Wealth is not in opposition to labor when in the hands of an individual in any sense that should receive comparison with the world money power and organized and capitalized trusts. Money has been and is an aid to labor and general business interests when it is in the hands of men who are content to receive for its use a just compensation.

Men who have been and are satisfied to receive a fair compensation for their investments are the friends of labor and all business interests. From such men business and labor receive support, and these are the men of wealth who are doing more to elevate labor than it is doing for its best interests. There are more wealthy people who are working for a just recognition of labor than the laboring world is generally aware of and their work is more effective in the interest of labor than the work of any other class that are interested in its behalf, because they have opportunity to present the question in manner and form that labor does not possess.

The cause for the superior force of wealth in the interest of labor exists in the fact that wealthy people who are interested in its welfare have opportunities to approach capital and to influence it that labor does not possess. The wealthy people who are the friends of the working man take no interest in politics for the purpose of controlling his life and free action as an American freeman. They have no money to contribute, and do not contribute their money upon election occasions to degrade labor and the laboring man that they may control him and place him in future bondage.

The wealth of the country that befriends labor in its efforts to elevate it, by giving it a just share of its earnings, is represented by people of refinement and culture, who fully understand the relation that labor sustains to capital, and who have that sense of justice that is represented in and taught in the rules given by the master for the moral government of man.

Very many of these good people who represent large money interests are earnestly working for the elevation of labor by seeking to procure for it a full share of the natural and artificial rights it is entitled to receive from the hand of capital. Money represented by the general business of the country is not working to deprive labor of its individuality or of any right that is a heritage to individual man. It is not trying to corrupt the people through the use of money that its political ends may be accomplished to injure and in the end to destroy the individual rights of man, and through the destruction of these rights, degrade and enslave labor.

The degrading uses to which money is applied to secure political power is not for the general good, but the use has its object in the fulfillment of selfish ends that have in them a poison that will be first represented in the decay of moral force, and will be next made known through decay in the framework and fabric of the republic.

In the late elections there is not anything to discourage Democrats. Kentucky has gone Republican, as was expected it would, because of the split in the Democratic party. The Democrats who opposed Goebel, the Democratic nominee, voted for Taylor, and thus secured his election. The Democrats have redeemed Maryland from Republican rule by 15,000 majority. The next year will have an influence upon the country that will more than change any apparent losses to the Democrats, if wisdom dictates the course of the national convention.

The Boer war continues at Ladysmith to be active. General White is defending the place successfully. His forces have made some aggressive movements which had a disastrous effect upon the Boer forces that surround the town. The Boers have gone as far south of the town of Ladysmith as it is thought safe for them to go. It is claimed that General White will retrieve his reputation in his active and well directed defense of the town he is compelled to defend.

Judge Mack Vindicated.

CARSON, Nev., Nov. 2, 1899.

In the News, a newspaper owned and printed and published by the undersigned, in Carson City, Nevada, on October 4, 1899, we published an article concerning C. E. Mack, Judge of the First Judicial District Court of the State of Nevada, headed: "Judge Mack Shows Up in an Unsavory Light," in which article it was asserted that Judge Mack had acted in a manner unbecoming a man holding a judicial position, or as a good citizen, in several things and ways particularly pointed out in that article.

The article was written by one of the undersigned on information believed at the time to be reliable; but on personal investigation we have found it to be untrue, and well calculated to do Judge Mack great injustice among his friends, neighbors and acquaintances, and to be well calculated to wound his personal feelings.

Therefore in justice to him, whom we have done a great injury, by reason of the writing and publishing of said article as above named, and to repair the injury as far as we can, we hereby retract the whole of said article, it all coming from the same informant, realizing it to be honorable to repair any wrong to one whenever convinced of that fact, and it is for that purpose that we publish this admission.

DUNN & LEMMON,
Proprietors and publishers of the News.

Interesting Case.

Stenographer W. C. Lamb has completed a transcript in the case of Nevada vs. Senator Ernst and others. It contains 400 pages. The case is one of great importance to sheep men, and the Supreme Court decision will be heard with interest.

The precedent to be established is whether a sheep man can pay taxes in which of the counties he ranges his sheep during the season that levies the lowest tax, or whether he must pay where his home ranch is situated.

Paving Experiment.

Congressman Newlands has authorized the Committee on Highways of the Keno Improvement Club to proceed at his expense in the matter of experimenting with various materials for paving the business streets of this city. Three strips will be laid, each about ten feet wide, on Virginia street. Slag from the reduction works, brick and macadam will be used.

In One Short Week.

Captain Stoddard expressed the opinion yesterday that the boys would arrive in Reno about Thursday of next week. If the captain is a good guesser this leaves little time to make all the arrangements now planned. There should be a lot of rustling all along the line in the next seven days.

Tour of Visitation.

Sheriff Henry S. Martin of San Francisco, Grand Treasurer of the Native Sons of the Golden West, and Grand Secretary Henry Lundstadt of that order, passed through Reno on a tour of Lassen, Plumas, Sierra and Modoc counties, where they will inspect the various parishes of this fraternity.

Another Benefit.

The Reno Dramatic Club made arrangements last night to put on a play for the benefit of the University of Nevada football team.

The play will be staged the last week in November if the house can be obtained.

Exchange of Pulpits.

Next Sunday Rev. F. Vernon Jones will occupy the pulpit of the First Presbyterian church in Carson. Rev. McMurry, exchanging with him, will preach in the Congregational church in this city.

F. M. Schadler, W. W. Webster, G. W. Perkins, Frank Coffin and S. W. Porteous were appointed a committee to arrange a reception for the members of the troupe who are also members of the club. Three or four clubmen are among those who came on the Ohio.

NEWS OF THE SAGEBRUSH STATE

Brief Items Culled From Exchanges From the Four Corners of Nevada.

Last week's receipts at the State Land office were $3,000.

A promising copper prospect has been discovered in Lyon county twelve miles from Dayton.

A deposit of asbestos has been discovered in Lyon county, about twenty-five miles from Dayton.

Carson will soon have electric lights again.

The Glasgow and Western Company at Golconda will shortly increase their force of men on the Adelaide mine.

On the Up Grade.

Every day sees from two to six names added to our subscription list. In return for this increase in patronage the JOURNAL will make every effort to give its readers their money's worth. In the matter of local and general news we will endeavor to cover the field and will in the future, as in the past, antagonize the agencies which are opposed to the best interests of the people and will continue to work for the upbuilding of the State.

What Paper Costs.

Ladies who go shopping have little idea of the cost of their trip, even in such minor detail as the cost of paper for the packages they have sent home. A Baltimorean has recently compared the weight of paper with the food supplied to the purchaser. In one day's purchases it is said that the paper wrapping amounted to about 10 per cent of the total. In a list of supplies costing about $1.40 he found that the paper which was weighed with the provisions cost 14½ cents.

A Good Answer.

Ernest McGaffey, the poet, is accredited with a good bonmot. A lady said to him:

"Oh, Mr. McGaffey, I have just seen your wife for the first time since your marriage. But I had supposed that she was a taller woman. She seems shorter than when I saw her last."

"Certainly," replied the poet solemnly, "she has married and settled down, you know."—San Francisco Argonaut

Last fall I strained my left hip while handling some heavy boxes. The doctor I called on said at first it was a slight strain and would soon be well, but it grew worse and the doctor then said I had rheumatism. It continued to grow worse and I could hardly get around to work. I went to a drug store and the druggist recommended me to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I tried it and one-half of a 50 cent bottle cured me entirely. I now recommend it to all my friends.—F. A. BABCOCK, Erie, Pa. It is for sale by W. Pinniger.

I awoke last night with severe pains in my stomach. I never felt so badly in all my life. When I came down to work this morning I felt so weak I could hardly work. I went to Miller & McCurdy's drug store and they recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It worked like magic and one dose fixed me all right. It certainly is the finest thing I ever used for stomach trouble. I shall not be without it in my home hereafter, for I should not care to endure the sufferings of last night again for fifty times its price.—G. H. WILSON, Burgartown, Washington Liverman, L. Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident, of which John Oliver of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows: "I was in the most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately, a friend advised trying 'Electric Bitters,' and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they saved my life, and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cents per bottle at S. J. Hodgkinson's Drug Store.

"Farmer" Gives a Few Facts and Figures as Food for Thought.

EDITOR JOURNAL: Owing to the existence of war and rumors of war, the people are liable to relax their vigilance of the money power and allow it to enact some very unwholesome financial legislation.

The present stringency of the money market at New York city shows conclusively that the New York bankers are entirely incompetent to manage the financial policy of this government.

The government has been very generous with the New York banks. It has repeatedly deposited government funds with the banks and has paid interest on bonds several months in advance in order to help build up their reserves. It has allowed them to keep open doors when their reserves were far below the lawful limit and has allowed them to issue clearing house certificates by the tens of millions of dollars, and yet, in the face of this generous policy by our government, these bankers have the gall to ask the government to go out of the banking business and allow the banks to issue all the paper money, with the power to contract or inflate the currency at pleasure.

Of course the banks would be as honest with themselves as they are with the government and would expect to redeem their notes, on demand, in gold coin.

Now, let us see what such a system of finance would result in. The first little scare in financial circles would precipitate a run on the banks. The bill holder and the depositor would both make their demands for gold at the same time, and, with no friendly U. S. treasury to draw on, the banks would soon be forced to suspend gold payments, and if the banking laws were enforced they would have to close their doors and financial chaos would result.

Mr. Editor, the foregoing facts show clearly that Uncle Sam is the only successful banker this country ever had, and in place of going out of the banking business he should go into it more extensively and teach the eastern bankers that an inflation of the currency and freedom from panics are more desirable than an inflation of credit, with a periodical financial smash.

Medals for Soldiers.

A meeting of the subscribers to the medal fund was held last evening.

The design submitted by R. Herz was adopted. The pin is a bronze bar, bearing the name of the company, etc. The medal proper, which is pendant by a sage green ribbon from the bar, is also to be of bronze. On the reverse it will bear the seal of the State, and on the obverse will be inscribed the name of the one to whom it is conferred.

All the Nevada troops who enlisted on either of the calls for troops, Terry's Rough Riders, Nevada battalion and Company H, Nevada cavalry, each and all of these will receive medals, according to plans now laid. There is about $270 in the medal fund.

A Thousand Tongues.

Could not express the rapture of Annie E. Springer, 1125 Howard St., Philadelphia, Pa., when she found that Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption had completely cured her of a hacking cough that for many years had made life a burden. All other remedies and doctors could give her no help but she says of this Royal Cure—"it soon removed pain in my chest and I can now sleep soundly, something I can scarcely remember doing before. I feel like sounding its praise throughout the Universe." So will every one who tries Dr. King's New Discovery for any trouble of the Throat, Chest or Lungs. Price 50c. and $1.00. Trial bottles free at S. J. Hodgkinson's Drug Store; every bottle guaranteed.

Yon Yonson.

It is said by those who have seen the performance that the company which is presenting the favorite comedy drama "Yon Yonson" this season is the best balanced organization that has ever been seen in the play.

"Yon Yonson" will be the attraction at McKissick's Opera House next Wednesday evening. It is very advisable that all should secure their seats early as the demand has already been very big.

That Throbbing Headache.

Would quickly leave you, if you used Dr. King's New Life Pills. Thousands of sufferers proved their matchless merit for sick and nervous headaches. They make pure blood and strong nerves and build up your health. Easy to take. Try them. Only 25 cents. Money back if not cured. Sold by S. J. Hodgkinson, druggist.

Assembly Address.

Hon. Francis G. Newlands delivered the assembly address at the University yesterday morning. There was a large attendance of professors, students and townspeople. The subject was "Topics of the Times."

Mr. Newlands' remarks were chiefly confined to a discussion of the most important questions that will probably come before Congress at the coming session. Trusts, expansion and the money question were each briefly and tersely discussed in turn. Our representative's position on these points was clearly stated.

THE GREEDY CATFISH.

His Eating Capacity as Wonderful as His Hold on Life.

The catfish belongs to an ancient type not yet fully made into fish, and hence those whose paired fins are all properly fastened to the head, as his are not, hold him in well merited scorn. He has no scales and no bright colors. His fins are small and his head and mouth are large. Around his mouth are eight long "smellers," fleshy feelers, that he pushes out as he crawls along the bottom in search of anything that he may eat. As he may eat anything, he always finds it. His appetite is as impartial as that of a goat. Anything, from a dead lamprey or a bunch of sunfish eggs to a piece of tomato can, is grateful to him.

In each of the fins, which represent his arms, is a long, sharp bone, with a slimy surface and a serrated edge. These are fastened by a ball and socket joint, and whenever the fish is alarmed the bone is whirled over and set in place; then it sticks out stiffly on each side. There is another such bone in the fin on the back, and when all of these are set there is no fish that can swallow him.

When he takes the hook, which he surely will do if there is any hook to be taken, he will swallow it greedily. As he is drawn out of the water he sets his three spines and laughs to himself as the boy pricks his fingers trying to get the hook from his stomach. This the boy is sure to do, and because the boy of the Mississippi valley is always fishing for catfish is the reason why his fingers are always sore. The catfish is careless of the present and sure of the future. After he is strung on a birch branch and dried in the sun and sprinkled with dust and has had his stomach dug out to recover the hook, if he falls into the brook he will swim away. He holds no malice and is ready to bite again at the first thing in sight—Popular Science Monthly.

CHINESE COURT HISTORIANS

They May Write the Truth, For Their Work is Secret.

There are court historians in China, as there are in other countries, but there is one striking difference, and it lies in the fact that the work of the Chinese court historians does not see the light until the reigning dynasty comes to an end.

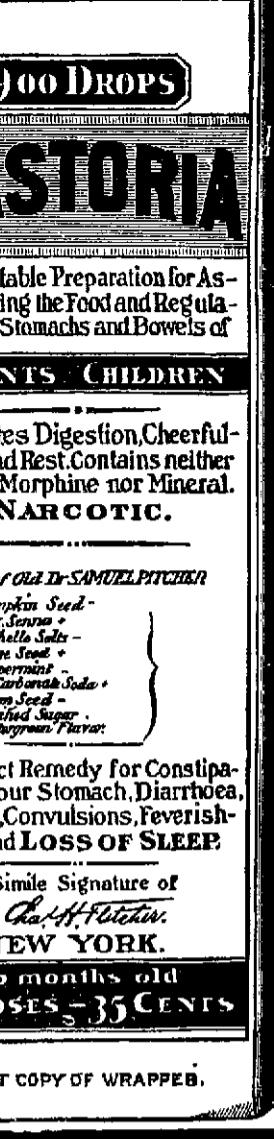

In this way these Celestial historians have an opportunity to describe most truthfully the virtues and vices of the valorous rulers and the real significance of the events which take place during their regime. They can write what they please without fear of censure, for they know that their work will not be published as long as the reigning dynasty lasts.

This has been the rule for more than 2,000 years, the first court historian having been appointed by the imperial house of Han, which reigned from 206 B. C. until 25 A. D.

The duty of these historians is to write plain accounts of all the events that occur during their tenure of office. At regular intervals their completed work is taken from them and is locked up in an iron safe or vault. There it remains until the first member of a new dynasty ascends the throne.

It is then given with all the other histories in the vault to the court historian, who is then living, and from the mass of documents he is expected to prepare a truthful history of the dynasty which has just expired.

Done by order of the Judge of said court this 27th day of October, 1899.
